

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Gathered from All Quarters.

WASHINGTON.

SECRETARY OF STATE EVANS says the case of Rev. J. W. Parsons, the missionary murdered on Turkish territory, will have the earnest attention of the United States Government.

THE Chief of the Bureau of Statistics reports that the total values of exports of domestic products from the United States for the seven months ended July 31, 1890, were $151,411,465; same period in 1879, $109,351,125.

THE total value of exports of domestic products and value from the United States for the seven months ended July 31, 1890, were $151,411,465; for the same period in 1879, $109,351,125.

ON and after the first of October the postage charge on newspapers addressed to countries or colonies of the universal postal union will be the same as on printed matter generally for the same destinations, viz: one cent for each two ounces or fraction of two ounces.

THE EAST.

JOHN BUCHANAN, dean of the Philadelphia College, under heavy bail to answer charges of fraudulently issuing medical diplomas, drowned himself on the 17th.

THE following ticket was nominated by the Connecticut Democratic State Convention on the 18th: For Governor, James H. English; Lieutenant Governor, Charles M. Pond; Secretary of State, R. B. Blake; Treasurer, Merriell A. Mercey; Comptroller, Charles Gagan; Electors at Large, Charles R. Tugwell and Doreen P. Waldo.

THE New York Greenback Convention, held at Syracuse on the 16th, nominated Thomas C. Armstrong for Judge of the Court of Appeals, and L. J. McDonald and Harrison Jacobs for Electors at Large.

THE two sons of Felix Campbell, of Allegheny City, Pa., who were taken prisoners in the Chilian war last spring and were reported as suffering great privations and still captive in Peru. Mr. Campbell has made application to Secretary Evans, asking his interference in their behalf as citizens of the United States.

THE American Bar Association met at Saratoga on the 15th. Many new members were elected and the executive committee chosen.

ELIJAH ALLIGER, a broker of New York City, was arrested on the 16th. The Superintendent of Police stated that the arrest is in connection with the disappearance of bonds of great value.

THE New Jersey Republican State Convention was held at Trenton on the 15th. The following ticket was nominated: For Governor, Fred A. Potter; Electors at Large, Barker Gooden and Z. K. Paugborn.

THE naked and mutilated body of Mary Cassidy, aged ten years, was found in a large heap in the woods near Barnstable, Mass., on the 15th. The head was nearly severed from the body, and in the child's side was a large butcher knife. The ground about bore evidence of the struggles of the little girl to free herself from the villain who so fearfully assaulted and cruelly murdered her.

THE bodies of the buried workmen at the Hudson River tunnel had not been recovered up to the 16th, and it was stated that it would be fully three weeks before they would be reached.

DURING a heavy storm at Dallas City, Pa., on the 15th, lightning struck two twenty-five thousand barrel iron tanks, setting fire to the oil.

A CARRIAGE containing Mrs. Mahoney, of Elizabeth, N. J., and four members of her family, attempted to cross the track in front of a locomotive on the 15th. The horses became frightened and ran away. The carriage was demolished and the colored driver killed. Mrs. Mahoney had her back broken and one daughter was fatally injured. The other passengers were seriously hurt.

ANDREW HEDDEN, a prominent politician, was shot on the 15th by an assassin, dying away, and was all over of his injuries. The people had gathered to witness two police officers arrest a drunken woman.

A MASS convention of Maine temperance societies was held at Bangor. H. Osmond, former Governor of the State, was the guest of honor.

WILLIAM PRIGG, colored, of Boston, second man in the contest for the O'Leary belt, is the challenger of Rowell for the Astley belt. His stake money, $500, has been forwarded.

THE following officers were appointed by the Knights Templar Conclave at Chicago on the 15th: Sir H. Clinton Lock, of Illinois; V. E. G. Preble; Sir H. P. Graves, of California; V. E. G. S. R.; Sir H. B. Stoddard, of Texas; V. E. G. S. R.; Sir J. B. Boyden, of New Jersey; V. E. G. W.; Sir S. E. Sheldon, of Kansas; V. E. G. G.

DR. BUCHANAN, the notorious hogan diploma man of Philadelphia, reported to have succeeded, is said to be alive, in good health and in easy reach of Philadelphia, where he can be had provided a sufficient reward is offered for his return.

WEST AND SOUTH.

MOST of the business part of Eureka, Nevada, was burned on the 17th. Loss, about $1,000,000.

IT was estimated that there were 20,000 Knights Templar in Chicago on the 17th, 20,000 of whom took part in the procession, which was witnessed by 500,000 people. The windows all along the line of march and on the principal streets were profusely decorated with evergreens, flags, national emblems, mottoes, antique and beautiful designs of every description. On the 17th, and Michigan avenues sixteen beautiful arches or canopies were erected from the four corners of the city to the corners of the city.

ALL the celebrated knights of the Templar Order, except the New York 13th Regiment band, were in New York in effect in the procession. The parade was witnessed by the most magnificent throngs seen in this country. In the evening a ball was given in the Exposition hall, at which fully 70,000 people were present.

RESIDENCE of Mr. Richtwag at Cak, was destroyed by fire on the 16th and all of the occupants perished.

DEMOCRATIC Convention for the Kentucky Congressional District held at Louisville on the 15th.

MONROE, a notorious burglar, was killed on the morning of the 15th by a son of Dr. Walker of Louisville, who had entered for the purpose.

GOVERNOR HERRICK, V. JOHNSON, aged, died at his residence in Jefferson on the night of the 16th, aged sixty.

A THUNDERBOLT of water upon passed over the southern part of Case County, Dak., on the 17th. All the buildings on a number of farms were more or less destroyed, and several persons were injured. A hurricane was reported southwest of Fargo on the same day. Houses were blown down and one man killed and three severely wounded.

A PASSENGER train on the East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia Road was thrown from the track near Knoxville, Tenn., on the 15th. The accident was caused by a runaway. One person was killed and fifteen wounded.

THE next triennial convocation of Knights Templar will be held in San Francisco in 1893.

A YOUNG man named Waldron was arrested at Sunbury, Georgia, by the Sheriff on the 19th. A posse overpowered the Sheriff, took the prisoner and cut his head off. Waldron ran away a short time ago with a girl twelve years old, his wife's sister.

ROBE CARUTHERS (colored) was on trial for stealing cattle, and while under a guard at Brenham, Texas, on the night of the 18th, the guards were overpowered by forty disguised men and Caruthers lynched.

A FATALITY, accident occurred at the Sandusky (Ohio) Wheel Works on the 19th, caused by the breaking of the cable of the elevator. Frederick Zimmerman, aged forty, and Jacob Volmer, aged fourteen, were in the act of mending the elevator, when they were struck on their heads and crushed to death. Two persons in the elevator were seriously injured.

HOS. JAMES ALEXANDER SEIDEN died at his residence in Goodland County, Va., on the 19th, aged sixty-five years. He represented his district in the Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth Congresses, was a member of the Peace Commission in 1861; was elected to the Confederate Congress the same year, and was made Confederate Secretary of War in 1862. Mr. Seiden was a descendant of William Alexander of Montrose, Scotland, first Earl of Stirling.

MR. ALBERT HOBLEY, of Clayton, Winnebago County, Wis., a respected farmer aged seventy-eight years, was shot by his son-in-law, Tom Hobley, on the 19th. Hobley then shot himself, both dying within an hour. It is understood the fatal act was the result of family and business difficulties.

BROWNVILLE, Texas, near the mouth of the Rio Grande River, was nearly destroyed by the fearful storm which prevailed along the coast on the 12th and 13th inst. Many lives were lost.

MORRIS ROBERTSON was hanged at Greenville, Darke County, Ohio, on the 20th, for the murder of Willey Coulter, his wife's brother, in October last.

ABOUT 1,800 Sioux Indians, who went North with Sitting Bull, have returned and surrounded at Fort Keokuk.

THE Colorado Democratic Convention made the following nominations on the 20th: Governor, John S. Haugh; Lieutenant Governor, W. C. Stover; for Congress, R. S. Morrison.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

A BERLIN dispatch, on the 18th, stated that the reports from provinces in regard to the floods were worse daily. Not only had Silesia suffered terribly, but also East and West Prussia. The harvest was almost entirely destroyed. It had been incessantly for three weeks in some parts.

THE Porte in its note to the Powers declines to participate in the coercive measures mentioned by the Powers.

THE harvest in the west of Ireland is reported to be not only abundant but unusually excellent. By all doubts, the harvest of the year will be a record.

JOHN DILLON, member of Parliament from Tipperary, speaking at a land meeting at Kildare, Ireland, a few days ago, said that as soon as the Land League had 300,000 men enrolled they would be able to strike against rent and if their demands were not granted, and all the arms in England would not be able to levy rent in Ireland.

THE International Food Exhibition opened at London from the 19th to 25th. The objects are to bring prominently before all classes, and in a comprehensive manner, the multitudinous articles applicable for food, both for the animal and vegetable kingdoms, together with various modes of producing and preparing the same for consumption, embracing the different processes of manufacture, production and distribution.

ENGLAND has telegraphed a circular letter to all the Powers proposing that they unite in a joint note to Turkey, rejecting the proposition of the Porte and insisting upon the fulfillment of the original programme.

CHUNG HOW, who concluded the Kellogg and Knox Convention, was imprisoned and threatened with death for it, has been released.

THE British proposal to enforce the decisions of the Berlin conference by armed measures is said to be cordially received by the Powers. Germany has already declined to participate in such intervention.

A STORMY earthquake was felt at Macao, on the 18th.

TWO companies of Bulgarian insurgents were annihilated by the troops recently from Hamburg on the 20th, took $1,521,000 in specie to the United States.

LATER NEWS.

THE damage by the recent storm in Texas is estimated as follows: Matamorras, $1,000,000; Brownsville, quarter million; Galveston, fifty thousand; Point Isabel and shipping, two hundred thousand.

SOME drunken men who were attending a circus at Morrisport, Tenn., on the 17th, got into a row with officers of the law. Two men, James T. Richardson and Ben. P. Richardson, were shot and Sheriff Linn dangerously wounded.

A FIRE in the rope-walk of the Charleston Navy Yard on the night of the 15th caused a loss of $70,000 to the building and machinery.

AT Collierville, Miss., on the 21st, the Democrats and Greenbackers held a religious meeting at each raised poles. After the pole raising the Democrats marched through the streets. While passing a corner a difficulty occurred between a negro named Spearman, who was in the Democratic procession, and a young man named Greenback candidate for Sheriff, which resulted in Pearson shooting Spearman. This was the signal for a general riot, in which many persons were killed and property destroyed.

SIXTEEN houses at Edinburg, Pa., were destroyed by fire on the 23d. The fire was incendiary.

DURING the year ended June 30, 1890, 457,243 immigrants arrived in the United States. This has only been exceeded by one other year, 1878, when 459,803 immigrants arrived. During the month of July there were 49,922 immigrants, of whom 11,000 came from Germany, 6,000 from Ireland and 3,000 from England.

CHARLES WILLIAMS and Louis Gaines were hanged at Santa Fe, N. M., on the 21st, for murder.

AT New York City, on the morning of the 22d, five thieves boarded a Third Avenue car, and after robbing it, they killed the driver, conductor and several passengers of watches and money.

A BOMBING dispatch says the Serbian Government is seeking 100,000 rifles of the newest pattern in America, deliverable before the end of the year.

GEORGE H. MOOREHEAD, Cashier of the City City, Pa., Trust Company's Bank was shot on the 15th for embezzlement. He is a defaulter in the sum of about $14,000.

A DISPATCH from Constantinople says that orders have been given for the immediate repair of the forts at the Black Sea entrance of the Bosphorus.

THE celebrated actress, Mrs. Charles Kean, who retired from the stage on the death of her husband, is dead.

FOURTEEN hundred and fifty weavers of Bolton, England, struck against a reduction of five per cent in their wages on the 21st.

TEMPERANCE.

THE Triennial gala week at Chicago, Green, Maple, Chestnut and Dearborn streets.

The triennial gala week was ushered in at Chicago on Sunday, August 15. It was the beginning of the Twenty-first Triennial Convocation of Knights Templar of the United States, and citizens and sojourning Knights honored it by appropriate services to the Great Master to whom the Order is dedicated. There were divine services at Grace Episcopal Church, at which Rev. Sir Dr. Clinton Locke, the Grand Prior of the Grand Commandery, officiated, and which was attended by the Knights of the Chicago Commandery and such Knights of the Order as had reached Chicago from abroad in advance of their several commanderies. After service the day was devoted to sight-seeing, visits to Chicago parks and to social intercourse.

The drum's deep roll and the trumpet's warlike blast made Chicago's streets resound on Monday. The red cross multiplied itself by thousands on warehouses, hotels, structures devoted to commerce and private dwellings. The city looked like a bride decked out for her honeymoon. All along the principal thoroughfares, and particularly along the proposed line of march for the procession, flags and streamers bearing the well-known devices of the Order were thrown to the breeze, the thousands of camps upon the Lake front were lit up, and a veritable city was further devoted to sight-seeing and the reception of guests, and the evening to visits to the theaters, moonlight excursions, musical and glee societies, and the like. Every minute of the day was spent on all the thoroughfares. It seemed as if the city had become a grand living lake into which were poured continuous streams of men, women and children. Commanders of gayly-decorated Knights, preceded by gorged and gorgeously everywhere, radiated from the Grand Headquarters like the spokes of a wheel as they were escorted to their resting places by detachments from local organizations.

Tuesday was the day appointed for the grand procession, which the managers promised should eclipse everything in the line of display ever attempted in this or any other country. It certainly was a prodigious affair, and if it did not equal the expectations of its projectors, consolation may be sought in the fact that the "best laid plans of mice and men oft go awry." And that while the management of a large body of men on parade is easy enough, it is altogether different when reduced to practice on a crowded thoroughfare. The procession was delayed in the starting, and delayed by the failure of some of its component parts to connect at the proper time, and further delayed by the general stupidity and mismanagement of the Triennial Convocation.

By all doubts, the procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

How One Burglar Was Disposed Of.

This morning at three o'clock the wife of Dr. J. C. Walker, a leading physician living on North Pennsylvania street, two blocks from the Post office, noticed the hall gas-light to be quite low. She woke her husband, who got up and turned it higher, saying to his wife that the decreased pressure had probably caused it to burn so low. Mrs. Walker was not satisfied. She looked over the side of the bed and saw the feet of a man protruding. Without a word, fearing that the burglar would kill her husband, she arose, walked through the hall into the two front rooms where her two grown sons were sleeping, awakened them, explained the situation, went down into the dining-room, procured a revolver, and came back, handing it to her second son, John, who is a practicing physician, the other son being weakened by a recent severe illness.

In the meantime the husband was suspicious of his wife's long absence, and looking over the bed observed the face of the burglar intently peering at him. Instantly he understood the meaning of his wife's movements, and also divined that the burglar had understood and was thinking what to do to insure his escape. Without a moment's delay the doctor threw himself from the bed upon the man, striking him a heavy blow in the face. He choked the burglar, who managed to grasp the doctor by the wrist, and with the other hand drew his revolver and fired the ball grazing the doctor's head and burying itself in the ceiling. The shot confused the doctor, and the burglar broke away, ran into the hall and headed for the stairs. In doing this he was followed by the doctor, who took deliberate aim and shot him in the back of the head, striking him in the neck and the mother and her two sons were awaiting events. The shot alarmed them, they believing the burglar had killed the doctor, and when the doctor came under the light John took deliberate aim and shot him in the back of the head, striking him in the neck and the mother and her two sons were awaiting events.

Tuesday was the day appointed for the grand procession, which the managers promised should eclipse everything in the line of display ever attempted in this or any other country. It certainly was a prodigious affair, and if it did not equal the expectations of its projectors, consolation may be sought in the fact that the "best laid plans of mice and men oft go awry." And that while the management of a large body of men on parade is easy enough, it is altogether different when reduced to practice on a crowded thoroughfare. The procession was delayed in the starting, and delayed by the failure of some of its component parts to connect at the proper time, and further delayed by the general stupidity and mismanagement of the Triennial Convocation.

By all doubts, the procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route. The procession was a grand affair, notwithstanding, and was witnessed by fully a quarter of a million of people who thronged the side walks and filled the doorways and windows along the route.

The Stewart College Scheme—